(Image by Unknown Owner) Details DMCA The Tea Party Express, the central organizational body responsible for mobilizing grassroots support for Rep. Michele Bachmann (R-MN), has come under fire yet again for failure to file mandatory financial reports with the IRS, as required by law. Bachmann's RNC Scheduled for Saturday in Minneapolis, and her own reelection campaign have received major financial support from the Tea Party Express -- specifically from its Iowa branch. Bachmann won a hard-fought victory in the Iowa Republican Caucus, defeating six other candidates to secure the state's single "tea party" delegate slot on the delegate ballot. Despite extensive complaints by concerned citizens, the Tea Party Express (TeePee) failed to file their mandatory financial reports last month, as required by law -- and missed deadline after deadline. Several TPe directors were contacted by Project Vote Smart for detailed financial statements for their respective fiscal years, but when asked for the TPe's financial reports, they failed to produce any. Instead, on September 12, the Tea Party Express sent an e-mail response acknowledging that they have missed their deadline, but that "we have plans to submit the reports within the next few weeks," and that they're working with their accounting firm "to quickly file the documents." What the Tea Party Express neglected to mention in the e-mail was that they have failed to file over half of their financial reports in four different years. Tea Party Express does not publicly list their top donors. However, among the top beneficiaries of the Tea Party Express are GOP state and national leaders, including Bachmann, Republican National Committee Chairman Michael Steele, Congressman Ron Paul (R-TX), and Dr. Earl Blumenauer, chair of the 9/12/2009 Congressional Review Committee. The NRCC has also been a major beneficiary of the TPE. With Bachmann's help, the NRCC has been pulling in over $1 million in fundraising, for a total of $3 million so far this year. During the 2008 campaign, the Tea Party Express failed to file any of its financial reports. Although it was a founding member of the national Tea Party Coalition, which has not filed any of its required financial reports to date, the Tea Party Express essentially dropped out of the coalition in June 2008, after two lawsuits brought by the SEC and the Iowa Secretary of State were filed against it. In light of the TPE's abysmal history of non

What's New in the Adobe Photoshop 2021 (Version 22.0.1)?

Q: How to add an image at the bottom right corner of the screen without making any change in the code? Like in this figure I want the right bottom corner of the screen to be replaced with an image. When we run the program the image should be displayed at the position I mentioned. How can I do this? A: I would suggest using a JFrame and using the setLocationRelativeTo() method to do the positioning. Set the location of this component using the setLocation(int x, int y) method. The coordinates are specified as a position and a delta. The position is measured from the coordinate origin of the frame's owner at the time the position is set. The delta is measured in the same manner as x and y but with respect to the parent of the component rather than the frame. Using this method, you can set the location of the component either relative to it's parent, or relative to the frame's owner. By default, when the frame is displayed, it's owner is the frame's content pane (JFrame#getContentPane()).

The use of endoscopic ultrasound for staging of pancreatic malignancy: a systematic review. Endoscopic ultrasound (EUS) is an excellent imaging modality for staging pancreatic lesions. A systematic literature review was performed on the use of EUS as a staging tool for patients with pancreatic cancer. The PubMed database was searched from 1966 to 2012 for articles containing endoscopic ultrasound for pancreatic cancer staging. The search yielded 121 articles, of which 28 met the inclusion criteria. Of the included studies, 7 were retrospective, 19 were prospective, and 4 were randomized controlled trials. EUS had a sensitivity and specificity of 94-100% and 83-95%, respectively, for the detection of lymph node metastasis. The pooled sensitivity and specificity for the detection of distant metastasis was 55% and 92%, respectively. However, pooled sensitivity and specificity for determining resectability was 24% and 87%, respectively. Endoscopic ultrasound had a sensitivity of 74% and a specificity of 92% for the evaluation of portal vein involvement with a 10-fold higher sensitivity than computed tomography. EUS was able to detect obstructing pancreatic mass lesions in 84% of cases. In one randomized controlled trial, EUS had a negative predictive value of 98% and a positive predictive value of 71% for confirming resectability
