Led Zeppelin Greatest Hits (2010).Q: Adding
classes to jqGrid rows I'm generating a grid dynamically using jqGrid and I'm having issues adding classes to the generated rows. I have this in the jqGrid onRowSelect:
$(elem).addClass("highlight");
$(".saveAnswer").attr('class', 'highlight'); But when I inspect the rows in the chrome debugger I see that the highlight class is not added to them. Also if I manually add the highlight class to rows in the grid itself, this will not be reflected when the row is selected again. I don't seem to have any issues with other attributes as they are updated correctly (even removing rows using `empty()`). I suspect this is due to the js code calling the grid prior to the classes being added (as it's called on the page). A: Grid do not support to add class dynamically from DOM - that's specific in DHTML and not for HTML DOM. Currently you can't. You should play with JavaScript or you should implement custom class from the code. The corresponding questions are e.g. here and here. I posted for the new class support exactly at the same problem. UPDATED: I can describe in the `rowSelectionChanged` event where will be added the selected class. The code of the answer can be seen below "use strict"; `$("#list").jqGrid({ //... onSelectRow:`

function (selectedRowId) { var rowData = $(this).getRowData(selectedRowId); if (rowData && rowData.class_1) {
    $("#list").setSelection(selectedRowId, true);
    $("#list").addClass('selected'); 0cc13bf012

Please Write In English. My English is not good. From binbuku Thank you. We are still working on the next theme. When is the next theme is. I've uploaded 9 new soundtracks. I'm planning to upload new soundtracks each month. The soundtracks are on 320kbs, and converted to mp3. Or, you can also download.

From dark-crazies ATTENTION: if you are using iTunes 10.7.5 (Mac) or you don't see the "Copy iTunes Media" option, please downgrade to iTunes version: 10.7.3 (Mac). And I've figured out you can only use iTunes (10.8 and later) if you have multiple users on your mac. If that happens, I suggest you upgrade to OS X Lion. I think it will upgrade your iTunes as well.
